

Reuse Project draft Revised EIR review period extended

The City of Concord is extending the public review period for the draft Revised Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) for the proposed reuse plan for the closed Concord Naval Weapons Station. The draft document was released on August 28, 2009 and had an original due date for comments of October 15, 2009. Written comments will be accepted until the close of business on October 26, 2009. This increases the review period to 60 days.

Comments should be sent to the attention of:

Michael W. Wright
Director, Community Reuse Planning
City of Concord
1950 Parkside Dr M/S56
Concord, California 94519

Wright can be reached at (925) 671-3019 or michael.wright@ci.concord.ca.us if there are questions about the extension.

CD copies of the draft Revised EIR can be obtained from Pam Laperchia at the Concord Civic Center or by calling (925) 671-3001. The document can also be viewed and down loaded from the City's Reuse Project website at www.concordreuseproject.org. A printed copy and electronic copy of the report is available in the Concord Public Library, 2900 Salvio St. The Concord Public Library can also provide computer access.

After the public review and comment period is completed, a Final EIR will be prepared. The Concord City Council will consider the Final EIR before it takes action to certify the document and officially adopt the Reuse Plan.

For more information, contact the Concord Community Reuse Project office, (925) 671-3001.
